

The Arc of Vance County Invites You To:

A Public Forum on Education

The Arc of North Carolina Wants to Know.....

Why aren't more students with disabilities leaving school ready for adult life? What can we do to help?

Kids with disabilities should have the tools they need to lead full, adult lives in their communities: marketable job skills, post-secondary educational opportunities, community living skills, recreational pursuits, and leisure interests.

The Arc of North Carolina is holding many forums across the state in order to develop a comprehensive state-level plan to advocate for improved educational outcomes for students with disabilities. What legislation and policies can change outcomes?

The Arc will offer positions on topics and ask for your feedback. What's working? What's not?

When: Monday, April 20, 2009

Time: 5:30- 7:30 PM

Where: H. Leslie Perry Memorial Library
205 Breckenridge St. Henderson

Questions? Call: Nancy Ormond 252-438-7627

Areas of Discussion Will Include:

Teacher training

Retaining teachers

Paper Work

Transition services and other agency involvement

IEPs

Vocational opportunities

Least restrictive environment; separate classes/schools

Testing - Graduation rates

Hosted by

